Highlights from the Seminar Series as well as visual arts and communications design brought many notable scholars to campus economics, political science and international relations, history, psychology, cultural studies international institutions in all our disciplines to give seminars at FASS. FASS Seminar Series in addition, we were able to welcome and host multiple scholars from many high-ranking in-...on the 20th anniversary of his death in April 2024. This was a major occasion, bringing three well-known, prolific researchers in their respective fields—economics, psychology, and philos...on campus and a panel commemorating Sakıp Sabancı, the founder of Sabancı University, International Award, Lord Nicholas Stern, Susan Michie, and Philip Pettit, with a set of events...lights in this period: most importantly, we hosted Special Jury Award winners of the Sabancı graduate students, and administrative staff in the last six months. There were many high-ly productive and fruitful with multiple activities, projects, publications, and recognitions.

Our current FASS newsletter reflects on the results of the hard work of our faculty members, Dear Colleagues, Students, and Friends,

Highlights from the Seminar Series as well as visual arts and communications design brought many notable scholars to campus economics, political science and international relations, history, psychology, cultural studies international institutions in all our disciplines to give seminars at FASS. FASS Seminar Series in addition, we were able to welcome and host multiple scholars from many high-ranking in-...on the 20th anniversary of his death in April 2024. This was a major occasion, bringing three well-known, prolific researchers in their respective fields—economics, psychology, and philos...on campus and a panel commemorating Sakıp Sabancı, the founder of Sabancı University, International Award, Lord Nicholas Stern, Susan Michie, and Philip Pettit, with a set of events...lights in this period: most importantly, we hosted Special Jury Award winners of the Sabancı graduate students, and administrative staff in the last six months. There were many high-ly productive and fruitful with multiple activities, projects, publications, and recognitions.

Our current FASS newsletter reflects on the results of the hard work of our faculty members, Dear Colleagues, Students, and Friends,