Foreword

This booklet puts together a record of the teaching and research related activities at the Faculty of Arts and Social Sciences, Sabancı University, in its third academic year, 2001-2002. As these pages do reveal, it has been a challenging and fruitful year, not only in teaching and research and other creative work, but also in program development and network formation. It is with pleasure I note that it has been a time equally engaging and rewarding in furthering our spirit of creating together.
